CITY OF HUDSON OAKS RELEASES 2020 COMMUNITY SURVEY

Hudson Oaks, Texas – The City of Hudson Oaks launched their 2020 Community Survey today. The City of Hudson Oaks is in the process of initiating planning efforts for the future of the city, and we are excited to kick these planning efforts off by gathering some initial community feedback on what issues need to be addressed and what things we can build on to improve our quality of life. The feedback and ideas gathered from this Survey will be analyzed to guide a new Strategic Plan for the City Council and to set a baseline for future surveys and plans.

We anticipate that the Survey will take less than 10 minutes, but it could take longer if extra thought is put into the questions about Hudson Oaks' future. We sincerely appreciate the efforts of the community members in participating in this process with us, and we look forward to seeing the responses and ideas!

“We are excited to kick off the community engagement process,” said Mayor Marc Povero. “The 2020 Community Survey will allow us to understand and analyze many different viewpoints and opinions from current residents, business owners, and visitors. This is a wonderful opportunity to allow us to grow together as a community in a successful way. I appreciate everyone, in advance, for your commitment to Hudson Oaks in providing valued feedback for our City's future.”
